

FSE 2014 in London

Carlos Cid and Christian Rechberger

~~FSE 2014 in London~~
-or: Crypto with Dinosaurs

Carlos Cid and Christian Rechberger

FSE 2014

- Date: 3-5 March 2014
 - Tentatively!
- Venue: conference room at the Natural History Museum (in central London)
- General Chairs and Program Chairs:
 - Carlos Cid (RHUL)
 - Christian Rechberger (DTU)

Why London?

One of the most exciting cities in the world:

Served by 5 airports, with direct flights to virtually all main cities in the world.

- Within 1-3 hours from most European capitals;
7 hours from US east coast; 9-12 hours from main Asian capitals.
- Hub of the two main European low-cost airlines (Ryanair and EasyJet), providing easy and cost effective access to students.

Easily reached by train from France, Belgium, the Netherlands.

Wide choice of accommodation.

Plenty to see and do!

Venue

Conference room at the Natural History Museum

Located in a very attractive part of London: South Kensington close to several museums (all with free entry), Hyde Park, few minutes by tube to the House of Parliament, West End, etc.

Venue

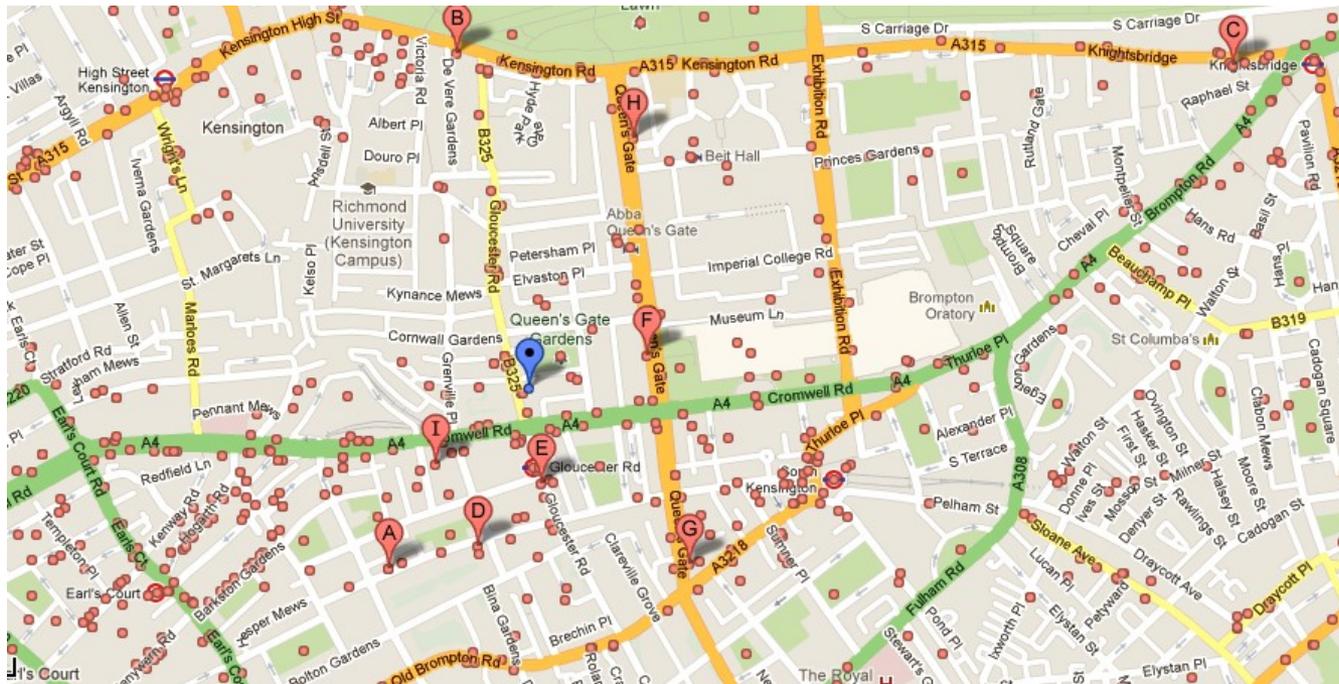

Fleet Theatre at the NHM
Auditorium-style theatre

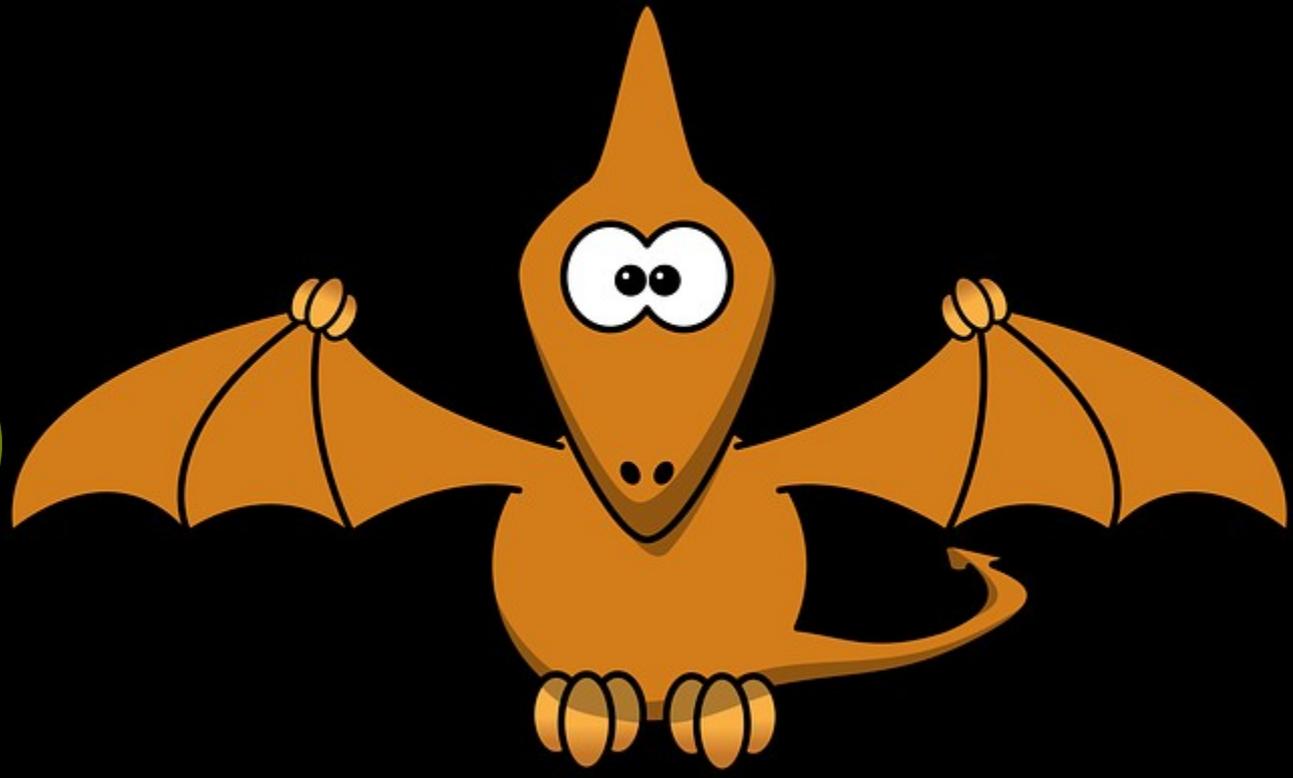

Participants are welcome to explore nearby galleries and check out NHM exhibits during breaks (entry to Museum is free)

Accommodation

- Plenty of choice in the area (and in London in general)
 - A simple search for “hotels in South Kensington” on google maps

FSE 2014 in London -or: Crypto with Dinosaurs

Carlos Cid and Christian Rechberger

